Desirability of transferring the Sericultural Department to the Control of the Department of Industries and Commerce.

In G.O no. 3264-77 A & E 57-18-1s dated 28th September 1920, Govt. directed that the Sericultural Department should be associated with the Department of Agriculture and treated as a part thereof, till the Department develops sufficiently.

2 In June 1925, the Sericulture Superintendent* brought to the notice of Govt. that the work in the Dept had very much expanded and urged that the Department may be made an independent one; but Govt. Considered that no action was then necessary. The Director of Agriculture again urged the question in October 1925, and the matter was dropped. ~~In October, the post of Mr Ramarao was transferred to the Sericultural Department permanently.~~

3 Now that there has been a change in the personnel of the Sericultural Department, and as the Department has been entrusted to the case of a junior officer of the Straits of no. H. S. Govindarao, it is necessary to consider measures to provide for adequate supervision over this Department. The Director of Agriculture has a large no. of departments under his control and the Sericultural Department may perhaps be usefully released from his control and tacked on to some other Department; except the growing of mulberry, the work of rearing, reeling, and other works attended to by the Dept. are of an industrial nature and on this ground, the Sericultural Dept. can appropriately be transferred to the Control of the Industries and Commerce Department.

When the Sericulture Department was organised in 1920, it was as a temporary measure associated with the Agriculture Department. The most important work before the Sericulture Department at that time was expansion of mulberry cultivation. A stage has now been reached when further development depends largely on the satisfactory solution of problems connected with the utilisation and marketing of silk. The Department has now to devote its attention to a larger share of the improvement of the quality of raw silk produced in the State by better methods of reeling and more efficient machinery, and to securing a steady market for our product by adapting it to the requirements of the centres of manufacture. It is necessary that a mutually beneficial correlation should be established between reeling and such further processes as throwing and weaving
